Dear readers, colleagues!

Now you see 4th issue of our journal, last in this year.

Here you can find articles on different directions of radiodiagnosis. We are actively working and fulfilling our promises - in 2018, the journal published more than 100 scientific papers, lectures and master-classes. This is an enormous work of the editorial board and the journal.

I am very grateful to everyone for clarity and activity!

All materials are double-blind peer-reviewed. This year several papers were rejected by reviewers. But the main material that you send us is of invariably high scientific quality. This is an achievement based on our active work with the authors.

New year 2019 is coming!

I congratulate all members of the journal team and the members of editorial Board, all employees of the journal and our readers on the New Year!

I wish you all health, success in life and creative activity!

I hope 2019 will bring us new achievements!!!

Happy New Year, friends!!
