

Letter From the Editor

Dear colleagues, friends!

You received the second issue of our magazine in 2019. This issue included 20 original articles and clinical cases, eight scientific reviews, 1 lecture and one article about the history of our specialty development. Let me pay your attention to the historical article! In my opinion, this is a very important article submitted by a group of authors from St. Petersburg. The article tells us about the history of creation of the world's first radiology Institute in 2018 – the “cradle” of Russian medical radiology.

There is the most important information about the organization of the Society of Radiologists and the role of our outstanding teachers M.I. Nemenov, A.F. Genken, S.M. Zanberg, dr. Ageev (Krasnoyarsk), A.G. Samoilov, Ginodman (Harbin), A.M. Rybak and Ya.B. Porkhovnik from Kiev, I.V. Vinogradov, A.I. Rautenstein (Grodno), A.P. Jeremich, A.A. Redlich, A.K. Yanovsky, D.D. Pletnev (Moscow), Ya.M. Rosenblat (Odessa) and others. Such material can be collected only by actively working in the archives. I'm expressing gratitude to the group of authors for such a deep research!

The magazine began to receive more articles in English. This is an important indicator - the journal is indexed in the Scopus database, and, of course, articles in English are more in demand abroad.

I remind you that all materials undergo a double-blind review. This may cause the delays of the article releasing because the authors have to correct the recommendation of the reviewers. However, with the active work of the authors, as a rule, articles are staying in the editorial office for not more than 2-3 months.

Write to us. Together with you we will be improving the journal according with the requirements of the time.

Sincerely,
Chief Editor
Sergey Ternovoy
