

From edition

Dear friends, colleagues!

This is the 3rd issue of our journal of 2015.

I'm glad that the issue starts with an article by Professor Heddy Hricak (USA), devoted to the history, goals and objectives of the international Society for strategic studies in Radiology (ISSSR). As we remember, the founder of this society was the famous Professor Alexander Margulis (USA), which is a foreign member of the editorial Board of our Journal. The work of the society is devoted to the definition of critical perspective directions of specialty development.

As usual, we publish a lecture and a master-class of well-known experts in our journal, and also different original articles, scientific reviews and cases from clinical practice, devoted to various directions of radiology and radiotherapy.

I hope this issue of the journal, which is published in the celebration of the 120th anniversary of the discovery of X-rays will give you pleasure.

Sincerely,
Chief editor S. K. Ternovoy
